The Queenslander Pictorial.

YORKE ISLAND, TORRES STRAITS.

SEE PAGE 29.

The "Government House Drive"

The Church and Mission House.

Thos J McMahon photo.

GONE TO DO THEIR SHARE.

—J. Little photo.

PUBLIC LIBRARY. 6 NOV 1916

Last Week's Parade through Brisbane.

Thiel, Photo.

The Governor receiving the Salute of the Infantry at the Post Office.

The "Dungarees" passing the Post Office.

The Beauties of Lamington Plateau—Queensland's National Park.

(From the Lands Department Report.)

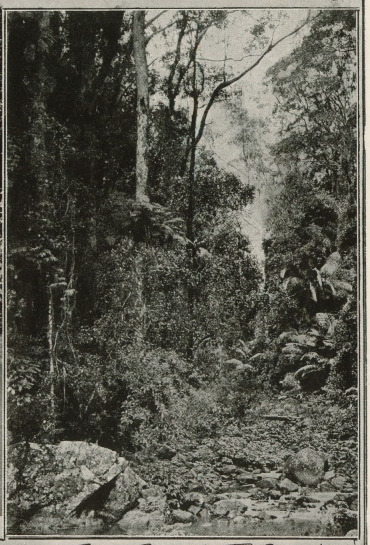
A Pretty Glen.

A Foaming Cascade.

One of the larger Waterfalls.

A Ferny Glade.

A Waterfall.



Tree Ferns in the Scrub.

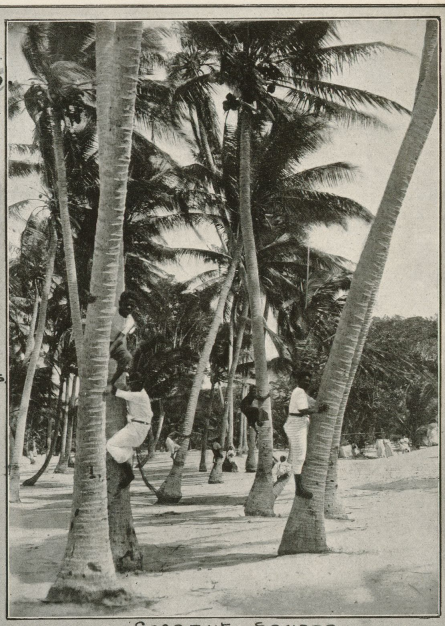
LIBRARY · BRISBANE · 6 NOV 1916

YORKE ISLAND, TORRES STRAITS

SEE PAGE 29.

Thos. J. Mc Mahon, Photo.

The house of the famous Mosby, the White man who lived on Yorke Island for nearly 40 years.



Coconut Square.

The street of Yorke Island village.

Mr and Mrs E.B. Connolly and group of natives.

Some women of Yorke Island.

School children at games.

Mr and Mrs Connolly and House Party.

THE ARTIST—A DUNWICH IMPRESSION

"ORTHOCHROM" PHOTO

LIBRARY
6 NOV 916
QUEENSLAND

The Roll of Honour.

QUEENSLAND CASUALITIES AT THE FRONT.

W. H. SMITH,
Killed in action.

N. MITCHELL,
Killed in action.

P. COLLINGWOOD,
Killed in action.

H. WYNNE,
Killed in action.

J. A. HOBSON,
Killed in action.

W. H. DOOLAN,
Killed in action.

E. TORR,
Killed in action.

G. LARSEN,
Killed in action.

R. S. GOULD,
Wounded.

PTE. J. A. MORGAN,
Died of Wounds.

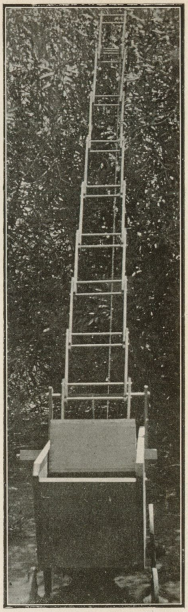
SGT. H. A. JOLLY,
Killed in action.

PTE. J. O. EVANS,
Killed in action.

PTE. W. T. CONGRAN,
Killed in action.

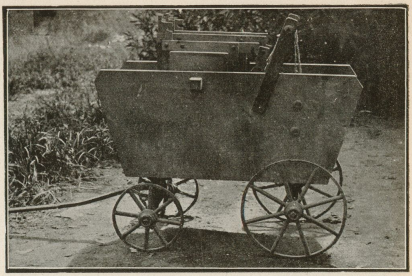
PTE. O. E. RUSH,
Killed in action.

SGT. W. H. LOWING,
Died of Wounds.



THE M'EWAN FIRE ESCAPE EXTENDED.

A BRISBANE AIRMAN.
Lieutenant Roy Trout, with No. 2 Squadron of the Australian Aviation Corps. He is a son of Mr. W. Trout, and grandson of Mr. R. Trout, ex-M.L.A. for Enoggera.

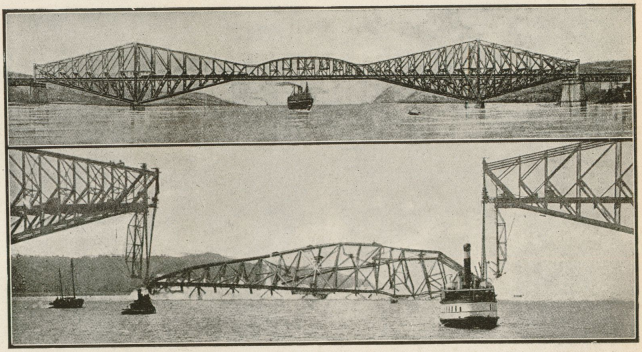


A NOVEL FIRE ESCAPE OR OBSERVATION LADDER.—See page 29.

BEEF FOR THE ARMY.
Lake Nash cattle en route for Butru trucking yards.
—J. C. Liddy photo.

A PNEUMATIC COASTER.

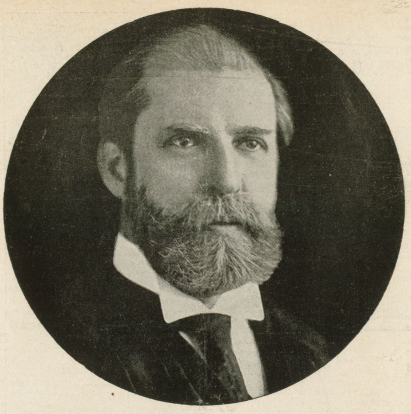
To water sports there has been added lately still another form of diversion, namely, a pneumatic coaster for surf riding. It is a mattress-like raft, which is inflated with air. Passengers ride on it much in the same way as on a sled, while the tumbling breakers or waves cause the pneumatic coaster to glide up and down the hills and hollows of the surf. The sport is fast becoming the vogue at many of the leading American summer seaside resorts.



THE MOST STARTLING ENGINEERING DISASTER OF THE CENTURY.

The centre span of the Quebec Bridge, the largest bridge span in the world, collapsed and fell as it was being raised into place, killing twelve workmen. A holiday crowd of 50,000 people, gathered to watch the span being put in place, saw the accident. The great structure was to be 3239ft. long, connecting Quebec with the opposite shore of the St. Lawrence. Eight railroads were to use the bridge to shorten the transcontinental journey 200 miles. The upper picture shows the bridge as it will appear when completed, and in the lower the broken centre span is seen. In 1907 another cantilever bridge at this crossing collapsed in the process of construction, with the loss of 70 lives.

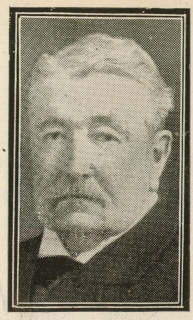
DR. WOODROW WILSON (DEMOCRAT),
Present holder of the office.



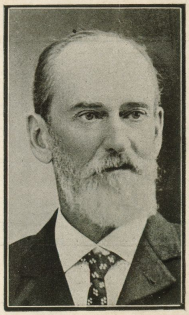
EX-JUDGE CHARLES E. HUGHES,
The Republican candidate.

THE RIVAL CANDIDATES FOR THE UNITED STATES PRESIDENCY.

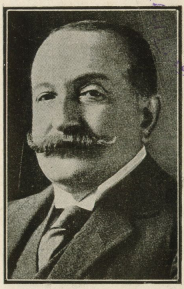
THE ALLIES' LATEST ALLY.—KING FERDINAND OF ROUMANIA.



THE LATE GRESLEY LUKIN,
A well-known Queensland journalist of bygone days.—See page 29.



THE LATE ARCHIBALD LEE,
A well-known Queensland magistrate, whose death was referred to in last week's issue.



THE MAN WHO BROUGHT ROUMANIA IN.
Take Jonescu, long known as the leading statesman of Roumania.

CPL. (PIPER) FRANCIS BREMNER,
Who died of wounds in Wimereux Hospital, France, on August 14.